SOLUTIONS FOR HIGH-PERFORMANCE BUILDINGS

It's not enough to have great product on the shelf. Our channel partners and suppliers remain relevant to the best designers and builders in North America because we distribute knowledge along with the goods.

We source our products from partners around the globe who manufacture these state-of-the-art solutions to address long-standing challenges faced by architects and builders everywhere. Bridgeport Worldwide brings to the table more than just our end-to-end hardware solutions. We also bring our expertise, and by leveraging our close relationships with our manufacturers, we make sure that the appropriate solution can be specified, integrated, and delivered successfully.

We're not here to sell everything to everyone.

We offer a limited, focused selection of best-in-class hardware solutions because we know what's at stake for the best designers and builders delivering high-performance buildings. Working in that unforgiving world, not one of them has the time to deal with anything but the highest quality and service from their products and their suppliers.

Bridgeport Worldwide is here to ensure that everyone's investment—from manufacturer to supplier to fabricator to installer to owner—endures and grows.

Keeping makers making.
